Salt Lake City, - - Utah.

SUNDAY, - - - APRIL 12, 1885.

TWELVE PAGES.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

LOW SUNDAY.
A ghostly quiet reigned in the District Court room yesterday.

THE RISTORI matinee drew but a small audience yesterday afternoon.

FIVE DRUMS were fined $5 each yesterday for their over-indulgence.

WELLS, FARGO & Co. received yesterday one bar Vienna bullion valued at $2,000.

ALREADY SEVERAL private parties have made excursions to the neighboring canyons.

A NEW culvert was being put in yesterday afternoon, between the Deseret Bank and Godbe's corner.

MCCORMICK & Co. yesterday received two cars' Hanauer bullion, $5,200, Queen of the Hills ore, $1,100; total, $6,300.

WHOSE TURN is it to wind up the clock on the Emporium corner? It has stood at twenty-three minutes past 14 about long enough.

A PARTY of twenty-five first-class passengers came in from the west yesterday, and will leave over the D. & R. G. for the east on Monday.

THE ADVANCED state of the season in this vicinity is such that we have nearly every kind of fruit in bloom, including pear, apple, plum and strawberries.

TOMORROW MORNING the business at the Third District Court will embrace the drawing of the Grand Jury and the setting of the law and motion calendar.

AT MEEK'S Armory a new target has been introduced. It is after the latest approval of the War Department, the rings being elliptical. It is a 100-yard range.

THE RISTORI party left on the D. & R. G. yesterday afternoon for Ogden. The elegant reclining-chair car was put on for the comfortable traveling of the company.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN MILLER who drew the Gladstone premium dog-cart, are an aged couple who have no use for the article, sold it yesterday to Hon. Wm. Jennings for $215.

THREE NEW bells have been added to the stock of the Armory, which are to be swung with the one already in position, and which is contemplated to ring chimes upon.

THE FAMILY and friends of Colonel D. J. Ross, of Cottonwood, are anxious to learn his whereabouts. He disappeared several months ago, since which nothing has been heard from him.

JOE DAKIN sold his Fischer piano yesterday to Mr. Robert Elgorn, who secured it at a bargain—$300. Joe called last night to say that he would now subscribe for the DAILY HERALD.

REGULAR MEETING of the thirteenth quorum of Seventies on Monday evening next, the 13th inst., at the Twentieth ward school house, at 7 o'clock. A full attendance is requested. THOMAS C. JONES, clerk.

AT 2:30 p.m. to-day the Templars of Honor commence a series of regular Sunday temperance services at their hall over the Deseret National Bank, to which all interested are invited. No collection.

THE FUNERAL of Patrick Sullivan, one of the Eureka mine victims, took place from the Catholic Church yesterday afternoon. A goodly number of the unfortunate man's friends followed his remains to the cemetery.

AS A RESULT of recent indictments, Mr. O. V. Spencer was arrested yesterday afternoon and taken before Commissioner McKay, charged with unlawful cohabitation. He was bound over in $1,500. Messrs. H. C. James and S. P. Teasdale becoming his sureties.

DR. J. O. WHITLOCK and Judge S. J. Johnson, at the meeting of the A. O. U. W., held on Friday night, were elected delegates to represent the order here at the session of the Grand Lodge, which meets in Butte about the middle of May.

THE FUNERAL services over the remains of J. A. Bailey were largely attended yesterday afternoon. Members of the G. A. R. and B. of L. E. turned out in force and the procession which followed the hearse to Mount Olivet extended two blocks. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. McNeice of the Presbyterian Church.

THE COMMISSIONERS did not arrive as was anticipated, on Friday night, but were expected last night, or, at least, a majority of them. Secretary Thomas was not at the Commissioner's office yesterday, his wife's continued sickness detaining him at home. A meeting of the Commissioners, it is expected, will be held at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

YESTERDAY Mr. James Oswald started westward on his journey to the Sandwich Islands, where he has gone on a mission. On Thursday evening a large number of his friends assembled at his father's residence in the Eleventh ward to express their well-wishes for his safe journey there and back. The firemen's band, of which he was a member, serenaded him and left him with warm expressions of regard. He has always been an exemplary young man and has made a very good beginning in life.

A THIRSTY old man was observed the other morning by an employee of THE HERALD, in the act of drinking beer kegs in the rear of a saloon at the foot of Commercial street. He was shortly after informed by the nightwatchman on the block that the custom was common with the old toper and with several other younger ones, who prowled around at all hours of the night and early morning, draining the dregs from the cast-out kegs. One old man, in particular, obtains his intoxicating party from the swill-tubs in the rear yards and partly from the leakings of the barkeepers in the barrels put out. It is rather a degraded and precarious mode of existing.

YOU ARE INTERESTED YOURSELF.
We are prepared to sell to families, at the "Occidental," Pure California and Imported Wines, at Reduced Prices. The best of Liquors and Cigars always on hand. You will become convinced by a trial.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

Prospectus of Another Underground Route.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION "LTD."

A Project Formed to Increase the Duties of Mr. Dickinson and Other Impartial Gentlemen.

On this beautiful Sunday morning the readers of THE HERALD will discover in the following brief item, a suggestion which, if carried out, will create somewhat of a stir in many quarters of the community. It will be a surprise to many, and a source of alarm to not a few. Yet, where justice is aimed to be accomplished in certain localities the results sought to be brought about will be hailed with satisfaction. The cry, the demand, for the "cinching" of violators of the Edmunds law has caused a strain and tension among certain classes in Salt Lake City which has awakened a desire on the part of some others to assist in dividing the odium and rendering the crusade more impartial. To this end a project has been seriously considered by a number of influential citizens to organize a bureau of information, the objects of which shall be the procuring of information which will lead to the conviction of violators of the Edmunds law, outside the "marriage relation," the obtaining of facts and evidence to bring to the surface a rottenness which exists and which is daily increasing; the securing of proofs of illicit intercourse indulged in by men of repute in the community and the detection of those who practice that against which they hold up their hands in holy horror and bawl themselves hoarse to have suppressed. The bureau will have good, substantial backing, and its members will embrace men of good standing, of both Mormon and anti-Mormon proclivities, who will conduct their operations without fear or favor and with a view to dealing out justice impartially.

It is known that a vast amount of the support given the houses of infamy in this city is derived from men who have families, who are looked upon by the general public as above suspicion, who are living lies and hypocritical to the lowest degree. They are living in constant and shameless violation of the provisions of the Edmunds act and yet escape indictment and live on in measurable tranquility, because the requisite interest in their doings has not been taken by the proper parties. When the bureau shall have been duly organized and put into thorough working order, we look for the rapid and immediate construction of a branch of the underground railroad for the accommodation of many of the class referred to above. It will be an opposition line to that at present patronized, with its outer terminus at Salt river. There is no doubt of its being liberally patronized, or that it will be run regularly on schedule time. When this time arrives, the prospect of a "halt" will be brighter than it is to-day, for those who will feel the effects of the bureau's work will prefer not to be compelled to leave their business, their homes and their families, which would be their lot when the certainty of exposure stared them in the face. The plausibility of the scheme will not be questioned, and that it will work an improvement in restoring confidence in business circles can not be doubted, and if this alone can be secured, THE HERALD will put upon the back and aid, all it can, the proposed "bureau of information."

Unexpected Demise.

Yesterday afternoon the much beloved wife of Mr. S. W. Darke passed quietly away, breathing her last in a peaceful slumber, after only some ten days' illness. The demise of the lady was almost unexpected, as until yesterday morning hopes were freely entertained of her recovery. Mrs. Darke caught a severe cold after a bath in the Warm Springs, some two weeks ago, and though feeling unwell for a few days thereafter, she did not take to her bed until a week since. She leaves a sorrowing husband and mourning family bewailing her loss.

Funeral notice will be published on Tuesday morning.

AN ART ACQUISITION.

Mr. McCormick's Purchase of a German Work.

Lovers of fine art would be much interested in a picture which we saw yesterday at Savage's, and which, we understood, may remain there for several days yet, and can be seen by those interested. It is the work of a talented German artist and was purchased by W. S. McCormick, Esq., during his recent visit to Dresden. In his selection the gentleman showed much discrimination and has added a real art treasure to his home. The subject is of the genre order, and tells its tale well. A gentleman has been riding through the woods, and either by accident or appointment has met a handsome peasant girl, who is engaged with her basket of wood, and the picture is made as they are conversing in the shade of some fine old trees. The chief object, or motive, of the composition, however, is the magnificent hunting horse, which is treated in a manner at once bold and intensely refined. While standing in the shadow of overhanging boughs, evidently on the spot where his master dismounted, a strong shaft of warm afternoon light strikes across his breast, just touching the saddle and his flank. Of this sharp demarcation of light and shadow and the perfect mastery of color on the horse the artist has made great work and it is this which will cause connoisseurs the greatest pleasure. There are other beauties, however, a chief one being the admirable drawing of the horse's head, and the fine turn of its head and its high-bred bearing; the landscape features, also, are most excellent, while the various textures are finely rendered. We have not yet seen a picture carried further as regards finish without sacrificing any of its vigor or general strength.

It seems that Mr. McCormick was first struck with the beauty of this picture on his European trip of a year or so ago, and found such difficulty in ridding himself of the desire to possess it that he wrote Mrs. McCormick to purchase it and bring it to Paris, where he took charge of it on his recent visit and did not fail to bring it home. It is a thing of very great beauty, and we feel sure will never be thought less of by its owner, and Salt Lake is the richer in art for its presence here.

MARCH WEATHER.

The Record at the Signal Service Office.

During the month of March, the report of the signal service officer here, Mr. William McGillivray, the highest barometer registered was 30.533, lowest, 29.925; monthly range, 0.608; mean, 30.240. The highest temperature reached during the month was on the 21st, and marked 70.4; the lowest, on the 1st, was 34.3; mean, 44.9; greatest daily range, 23.4, on the 9th; least daily range, 11.5, on the 21st; mean daily range, 18.1. Mean daily dew point, 59.3. Mean daily relative humidity, 68.4. Prevailing direction of wind, north; total movement of wind, 2,770 miles; highest velocity of wind and direction, 22 miles, northwest, on the 23d. Number of clear days, 20; fair, 10; cloudy, 1. ## LADIES' RESORT.

The Eagle Emporium Becoming a Popular Institution.

At the Eagle Emporium, under the proprietorship of Mr. R. K. THOMAS, the ladies of Salt Lake have a repository for articles in their line which will be kept supplied with all the newest and freshest productions of eastern and foreign factories. The recent arrivals at this fast-becoming popular establishment embrace a variety of choice goods which to appreciate should be seen. They consist of embroidery edgings, with insertions to match; cream Spanish and black Spanish nets, with laces to match; navy-blue and Turkey red all-over embroidery, with edgings to match; English Turkey red and navy cambric to match edgings; lace doucings in all desirable widths and a large assortment of white dress goods. Mr. THOMAS' experience in the business of ladies' furnishings is an assurance that the Eagle Emporium will win from the fair ones of this community a liberal patronage.

THE BEER INDUSTRY.

Wagener's Mammoth Brewing Establishment.

THE DESTINY OF OUR BARLEY.

The Money Spent at Home and Saved to the Territory in the Manufacture of Malt.

Taking a drive out the other day, our business called us on the old emigrant road, through Emigration Canyon, where we passed the pioneer brewery, established in 1864 by Mr. Henry Wagener. We well remember the old landmark erected his frame structure of 20 feet by 30 feet, and started the California Brewery with a capacity of 200 gallons per day. Its growth has been continuous, until now it stands in the front of the beer-producing establishments of Utah, having a reputation the whole length and breadth of the Territory, also supplying demands east as far as Omaha, west to San Francisco, north to Butte City, Montana, and south to Arizona.

Last fall the most of the original landmarks were effaced by Mr. Wagener pulling down the frame building erected in earlier days, and making the brewery, as it stands to-day, a solid brick structure 250 feet long, part two stories, and part four stories high, by 120 feet deep. Everything nearly is new, outside and in, and the air of cleanliness about this mammoth establishment strikes the eye as something marvelous, when the large amount of business carried on there is considered. The present capacity of the brewery is estimated at 4,500 gallons per day.

In the south part of the building is the dwelling proper and storage rooms and immediately north is the drying kiln, which has two separate and distinct drying floors. The kiln is of an improved pattern, so that the whole is distributed as to avoid burning or even scorching the malt; its design is unique and apparently, beyond improvement in its construction. On the first and second floors in rear of the kiln are the mashing floors, on which the barley is changed from its natural state to the condition necessary to that of its being known as malt.

Then north is the boiler room, where is a boiler of 60 horse power, made by Messrs. Haynes & Son, of this city. Over this are the rooms for cleaning and handling the grain before it is taken to the mashing floors. In the rear are the steeping tubs, being a part proper of manufacturing malt.

In the compartment on the north are the grain elevators or bins, which receive one somewhat of the massive construction of the east. Here the consumption of the brewery is demonstrated, as from 40,000 to 50,000 bushels of barley have to be handled over and over again as the process of its conversion from the product of the soil to the state for the manufacture of beer progresses. There are five of these bins, all erected substantial yet useful. Above is the storage of the immense amount of barley and hops required in this business.

The 35-horse-power steam engine can next be seen welding its ponderous and battered wheels upon the machinery of the celebrated and patented beer kettle, of the capacity of 2,300 gallons. There is no other kettle like it in this Territory, and it is claimed to be far superior to that of any other construction. Here are the mammoth mash tubs, which are worked to their full capacity.

In close proximity are the labyrinthian beer cellars, where one is almost lost in the interwoven streets and by-ways between the massive casks of stock on hand, gr. wip ready for the spring and summer demand. On rough calculation there must be nearly 100,000 gallons on hand at the present time, with a daily replenishing of the stock by continual brewings.

Annexed is the well-arranged washing house, ice cellars and storage rooms. These are all new, designed and built with a view for economy of labor and cleanliness in use. The coolers are placed on the top of the structure, where the beer is pumped, after having passed through the mashing and steeping tubs. Mr. Wagener is fortunate in the location of his brewery, having pure mountain springs to furnish him the necessary aqueous for the business. To make the springs more effective for demand he has built reservoirs on the hill adjacent which give him a never failing supply. The gentleman has also spent considerable means, as well as his own good taste in surrounding his premises with shade trees, fruit trees, vines and fountains, giving to his suburban retreat the air of comfort and pleasure as well as business.

About two years ago Mr. Wagener secured the services of Mr. Joseph Trimborne to superintend the mechanical business of this extensive establishment, who is a thorough brewer of large experience and a cultivated gentleman, and Mr. W. is well satisfied to leave the brewery part of his business to this gentleman, under his own special supervision.

The bottling is carried on in Commercial street where a little army of helpers are as busy as bees preparing or the large shipments daily made to all points of the compass.

Mr. Wagener calculates that the amount of money placed in circulation by his purchase of barley, from home producers, must amount annually to $25,000, besides, perhaps, nearly the same amount which is kept at home by the purchase of home productions instead of the money being sent out of the country for fancy brands of imported beer.

There is one feature in connection with this establishment, and that is, it is a growth with the Territory. It supplies a home demand and the profits are expended in our midst for the growth of our mutual interest. No one man is more popular with the working man than Henry Wagener and very few have identified themselves more fully with the growth of the community than he has.

G. F. CULMER & Bro. Enamel Mixed Paints is his only perfect kind.

SLOWLY COMING IN.

The Claimants of Premiums Registered Yesterday.

The following additional names and numbers were added to the list of the lucky ones in THE HERALD Distribution, making a total of fifty, who have presented their numbers and received orders for their prizes. By the time the next WEEKLY HERALD is issued we expect to have a complete list, so that those residing at a distance, where the mails do not reach them often than once or twice a week will learn who have been fortunate in the drawing. Should there be premiums then unclaimed, we surmise the winning numbers will be found in remote parts of the country. Here is yesterday's list of lucky ones:

A Few Queries.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 10th, 1885.
I wish to ask the President and five members of the Utah Commission (who receive salaries of $5,000 each) a few questions. The Edmunds bill defines their duty. It gives them no authority beyond that bill, yet they have taken upon themselves to establish a religious test, which the Constitution forbids. But of what use are they now, anyhow, only to receive $5,000 each for doing nothing, and riding to and fro at government expense? Why not expend that money in a good government building here, a court house, a postoffice or an assay office, or anything that would benefit the country. If you cannot do that for this neglected, persecuted Territory, why then, give it to some needy, worthy pensioner. As economy is the grand cardinal principle of Democratic government, I submit this as a step that should be taken by the present administration.
OLD JOE.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

MEMBERS of Stephen's chorus should all attend the rehearsal next Monday night and secure the admission tickets which will be needed to admit them to all future rehearsals. Five choruses have already been taken up and very good progress is being made.

THE PRESENT is a very opportune time to take advantage of the Richard powder advertised elsewhere in our local columns. Its use will exterminate all kinds of insect pests, and many of our citizens can testify to the truth of this assertion. The Z. C. M. L. drug department has the Territorial agency.

A FRIEND of the wife-beater Roadway make application at the City Hall yesterday afternoon on behalf of the woman, for a withdrawal of the charge, and was informed that if the beater and battered would appear on Monday morning and agree to have the case dismissed, it would probably be done on payment of the costs.

AMONG the improvements at Fuller's Hill, and one which will prove a big attraction the coming summer, is a circular pond, about 121 feet in circumference, with about two feet six inches of water in it, in which a revolving boat will be placed. The boat has been constructed upon the same plan as the one in Woodward's Gardens, San Francisco, and will carry about eighty persons comfortably.

PERSONAL.

J. M. LEE and wife, of Frisco, leave this morning over the D. & R. G. for New York.

Mrs. E. WISLOW, wife of a noted New York banker, with a party of half a dozen friends, will leave over the D. & R. G. to-morrow morning, for New York.

ZERA SNOW expects to shake the dust of Salt Lake from his shoes in about ten days.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is a certain remedy for removing dandruff, making the scalp white and clean, and restoring gray hair to its youthful color. It imparts a fine gloss and freshness to the hair, and is highly recommended by physicians, clergymen and scientists as a preparation accomplishing wonderful results.

For Wall Paper, Picture frames, Window shades, Pictures, etc. go to Rivers Bros., Wasatch Block. With Parsons & Co.

AN ENDLESS variety of Laces and Embroideries at lowest possible prices at
C. M. DONELSON & Co.,
West of Opera House.

Sheep Oil.
During the past two seasons we have had a large demand for our Sheep Oils, of which we keep two grades. It is used for the base for making ointments and is far superior to any which sheep men usually compound. It not only keeps the skin moist and free but is extremely healing in itself even without the drug that are usually added. Many stockmen complain that they are unable to get good sheep oil at country stores and are delayed by having to send a long way to us direct.
G. F. CULMER & Bros.

Furniture.
Carpets and Wall Paper, at bedrock prices, at H. DISWOOD'S.

OUR Notion department is replete with a handsome line of Buttons, Dress Trimmings, Neckwear, Laces, Embroideries, Hand Satchels and a large variety of French novelties.

PROVO POINTS.

Happenings and Doings in Utah County's Capital.

OUR LIVERY men seem to be doing a good business.
R. C. KIRKWOOD returned from Zion this morning.
J. A. STEPHENS, of Ogden, was on our streets on Friday.

THE WEATHER is all any one could wish for clear, sunny days; cool daylight nights.

TRAVEL over the D. & R. G. going east is very heavy. The U. C. train going South to-day, was crowded.

A. B. THOMPSON, representing the Democrat, was among the guests registered at the Excelsior on Thursday.

BEN BACHMAN and wife returned home to-day, and both seem delighted with "Ristori" and "Patience."

COURT ADJOURNED on Thursday morning. The Manti murder case comes up on Wednesday and owing to the youth of the defendants and the evidence being purely circumstantial, it is thought that it will be very interesting.

WE, on Monday, lose from our midst the family of Abner F. M. Lyman. They have been residents of our city the past two years, and during that time have made and gained a great number of friends, all of whom deeply regret their removal. They go to Tooele, May success and happiness attend them in their future home. What we lose our sister city, Tooele, gains.

R. S. HINES, charged with selling spirituous liquors, contrary to our city ordinance, had his trial before a magistrate's court last night, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty. This morning he came into court to receive sentence. A. G. Sutherland, his counsel, made a motion for a new trial, which was refused. The judgment of the court was that he (Hines) be fined $100. A stay of execution was granted until this evening. The case will be appealed.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES TUCKER, who left six weeks ago to-day, on their bridal tour, returned in safety, and are looking supremely well, and happy. They had a most pleasant and enjoyable trip, and will be given a reception to-night by their relatives, some of the most intimate friends being invited. It is not yet known whether Mr. Tucker will take up his abode in Provo, or go to his place of business, "Pleasant Valley." We wish them happiness and prosperity, wherever they may reside.

OUR district schools combined gave an entertainment in the West School house, yesterday afternoon, consisting of recitations, essays, select reading vocal and instrumental music and other exercises by the scholars of the different schools; they all did admirably and are deserving of great credit. From every reason to be proud of their schools, and we predict that at no distant day they will gain that eminence of distinction from which it will be acknowledged as being the educational centre of Utah.

TWO WEEKS ago to-day our late ball nine, the Alerts, went to Payson to play the nine of that city. The game of that date resulted in a tie score of 22 to 22, so to decide the championship of Utah county, the Payson club, with a number of their friends, came to Provo on Friday night, and in honor of their visit, the Alerts gave them a dance last night in Chaff's Hall, where our Payson friends, extremely themselves as having spent a pleasant evening and speak in most glowing terms of the hospitality shown them, at the hands of the Alerts. At the writing the game is in progress and promises to be very closely contested.

THE SO-CALLED grand event of the season transpired last night, is what they, "the committee," termed a select calico ball, and judging from the list of checked goods on which the invitations were printed, it must have been very select, and in looking over the names of the couples sent on invitation we see two as follows:

"Annie Lydia, Pale Blue"
Edith Elizabeth, Mother Hubbard"

The idea suggests itself very forcibly to us that the two names, of themselves alone should have been a sufficient guarantee of success. If an unnecessary and uncalled for collection of words added to any one's name, is suggestive of anything. Having seen no one who attended and not having time to give, say, it must have been a very pleasant affair.

OUR Post office was crowded yesterday morning with persons waiting for continuance of anxiety and impatiently eager to see a HERALD, that they might compare their numbers with those who drew the prizes. You could see them with their tickets in one hand and the paper in the other. After scanning the numbers closely, you could see them shake their heads, and a look of disappointment would cross their faces, where a few moments before had shined the ray of hope, and away they went, crest-fallen and disconsolate, muttering something about being unlucky. And again you could hear others say, "O well, I didn't expect to draw anything." As far as I can learn, Provo was left almost entirely out, only one or two having drawn a prize.

Provo, April 11th, 1885.
